“Los Angeles County is home to hundreds of thousands of children who will be returning to school this September. Traffic related collisions are the leading cause of death among elementary school children. Traffic safety education is key to reducing the number of traffic-related collisions.

“Safe Moves, in conjunction with my office, the California Highway Patrol and the Los Angeles Sheriff’s Department, will conduct ‘Back to School Safely’ Day on September 23, 2005 at Burbank Elementary School in Altadena to generate awareness of the importance of traffic safety.”
